

We Have a Winner...

Thank you so much to those who entered to win the 20v Max Lithium Drill and Saw from BLACK+DECKER! The winner, chosen at random by using a random number generator at Random.org is...

The image shows a screenshot of a web-based random number generator. The title is "True Random Number Generator". There are two input fields: "Min:" with the value "1" and "Max:" with the value "8". Below these is a "Generate" button. Underneath the button, the word "Result:" is followed by a purple box containing the number "8". At the bottom, it says "Powered by RANDOM.ORG".

I have always wanted to have some TV trays for those times when we eat dinner in the living room, so I would use these tools to make that. Ideally I would make folding tables, but my skill level may not be ready for that.

I have a cordless Black and Decker drill that I have had forever. I love it. I also have a corded drill (not B & D) that weighs a ton. I keep telling myself I am going to get another cordless drill so I can have one for drilling and one for fastening. This one would be perfect.

What a practical piece for your home gym! I love how you added the metal to the sides. A drill is something that we can always use. I'd like to have my own so that I could hide it from my husband and not have to look for his when I need to use one.

I love the addition of the aluminum pieces Cher! And the color? perfect! What would I use these tools for? Anything and everything, most likely some easy diy projects I have been working on. A gal can never have too many drills and saws, right?

Love your workout storage! I've got some outdoor projects planned for this fall and an office makeover this summer where this drill would be perfect!

Love the wood and metal look of your weight stand! Oh man, the projects I could tackle with this compact Black & Decker drill... I wish I had it this weekend when I was building a plant stand and my cordless drill wouldn't fit inside to attach the legs. I ended up having to use a tiny screw driver and now my hand is killing me! This compact drill would have been perfect for those tight spaces.

I love how compact this drill is! I'd use it to hang my gallery wall. Our walls are cement board and we have to drill small pilot holes for nails to hang anything. This would make the job much easier!
